Applying as a Group: Groups are encouraged to apply online. If applying as a group through the mail, be sure to send all applications in the same envelope.

Permits Remaining after the Draw and General Elk Permits: General season elk permits and permits remaining after the draw will be available beginning at 8 a.m. on June 15, 2006 on a first-come, first-served basis. Note that operating hours at license agent locations vary.

Lifetime License Questionnaire: Lifetime licensees can now complete their questionnaire and select their region hunting choice online at wildlife.utah.gov. For complete details, see page 25.

Five-Day Deer Hunts: The general any weapon deer hunts in the Southern and Southeastern Regions will run for five days in 2006. The dates are October 21–25.

Nonresident Fishing Bonus: Nonresident big game permits also serve as a fishing license. If a nonresident purchases a fishing license in addition to receiving a big game permit, the Division will not issue a refund for the fishing license.

Dedicated Hunters: The application period to join the Dedicated Hunter program is January 17–February 16. If you join the Dedicated Hunter Program, you cannot apply for general deer permits through the drawing. For more information about the Dedicated Hunter Program, see page 26.

Surrendering a Permit: Hunters surrendering a permit to obtain another permit for the same species must do so before the season opening date of the permit to be surrendered. Dedicated Hunters surrendering their Dedicated Hunter Permit to obtain a different open region must do so before September 27, 2006 (the opening of the general muzzleloader deer season).

Archery Elk Restriction: Archery elk hunters may not harvest an antlerless elk on the Plateau, Fish Lake-Thousand Lakes subunits.

Youth Deer Hunters: Any person 18 years of age or younger on August 19, 2006 (the opening day of the general archery deer hunt) may hunt all three general deer seasons. To do so, that person must obtain either a general any weapon or a general muzzleloader permit for a specific region. See pages 24–25 for more information.

Special Regulations for Nine Mile, Range Creek South Elk Unit: Private lands remain under any bull regulations. Access is restricted and very difficult. Public lands are limited entry, and permits must be obtained through the drawing.

Ogden Extended Archery: The Ogden portion of the Wasatch Front extended archery deer area is a buck-only hunt. See page 24.

Chronic Wasting Disease (CWD): Because of concerns with CWD, certain rules apply to the importation or transportation of dead mule deer, elk and white-tailed deer through or into Utah. For more information, see pages 8 and 16.

Mandatory Reporting: Premium limited entry, limited entry, CWMU and once-in-a-lifetime hunters must report hunt information via the DWR Web site (wildlife.utah.gov) or toll-free at 1-800-221-0659 whether the permit holder was successful or unsuccessful in harvesting an animal. Hunters who fail to report will be ineligible to apply for permits or bonus points in the following year.

Hunter Orange: Hunter orange must be worn when any centerfire rifle hunt is in progress in the same area, including CWMUs and extended archery areas. For exceptions, see page 12.

Private Lands: While taking wildlife or engaging in wildlife-related activities, a person may not, without the written permission of the owner or person in charge, enter upon privately owned land that is cultivated or properly posted. "Cultivated land" means land which is readily identifiable as: 1) land whose soil is loosened or broken up for the raising of crops; 2) land used for the raising of crops; or 3) pasturage which is artificially irrigated. The DWR cannot guarantee access to any private land. If you plan to hunt in an area that is made up of all or mostly private lands you must also obtain WRITTEN permission from the landowner or an authorized representative of the landowner.

Hunters with Disabilities: Several opportunities are available for hunters with disabilities. For details, see Rule R657-12, which can be viewed at wildlife.utah.gov/rules. See page 5 for general season extension dates.

Harvest and Population Trend Tables: The harvest and population trend tables that appeared in previous proclamations are now available online: wildlife.utah.gov.

Proclamation Amendments: The Wildlife Board may amend this proclamation if conditions warrant. Be sure to check the Antlerless Addendum for possible amendments. The Antlerless Addendum is published in May or June.

License Suspension: The Utah Division of Wildlife Resources has the authority to suspend hunting and fishing privileges for wildlife violations if the Division deems that the violation was committed knowingly, intentionally or recklessly. Any person who is convicted of, pleads guilty or no contest to, or enters a plea in abeyance to a wildlife violation may be subject to administrative suspension. Notification of such action is generally served only after criminal proceedings have been concluded. Any Utah order of suspension may be recognized in other states participating in the Wildlife Violator Compact.

Protection from Discrimination: The Utah Division of Wildlife Resources receives Federal financial assistance from the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. Under Title VI of the Civil rights Act of 1964, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, the Age Discrimination Act of 1975, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, the U.S. Department of the Interior and its bureaus prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, disability or sex (in educational programs). If you believe that you have been discriminated against in any program, activity or facility, or if you desire further information please write to: The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Office for Diversity and Civil Rights Programs-External Programs, 4040 North Fairfax Drive, Suite 130, Arlington, VA 22203.

Responsible OHV Use

The Utah Division of Wildlife Resources encourages responsible OHV use. While most OHV users are responsible, misuse results in disturbance to wildlife, damage to wildlife habitat, and personal injury.

Please be aware that unlawful OHV use is a criminal offense. Utah Division of Wildlife Resources conservation officers and State Parks & Recreation rangers regularly enforce all OHV regulations, including:

- riding an OHV in closed or restricted areas and roadways;
- harassment of wildlife;
- helmet-law regulations; and
- OHV operator age restriction regulations.

Many designated roads and trails on public lands are available to responsible OHV users. You may obtain a copy of a "Travel Opportunity Guide" from the appropriate federal land management agencies (USDA Forest Service or Bureau of Land Management). Please refer to the "Travel Opportunity Guide" for locations where you can ride. Under Utah state law, all public lands are closed to OHV use unless designated open by map, sign, or description. The closures protect sensitive natural resources such as watersheds and valued wildlife habitats, and ensure public safety.

The Utah Division of Wildlife Resources owns and manages several hundred thousand acres of wildlife management areas across the state for wildlife purposes. Controlled OHV use on these lands protects wildlife and their habitats.

Utah law also requires youth, ages 8 to 16, to receive OHV certification before operating an OHV on open public-land roads and trails. Certification classes teach safety and instill ethics in young OHV users. Remember, to be a responsible rider also means receiving proper education.

Please call 1-800-OHV-RIDE to enroll in a OHV safety certification class.

Get Maps and Exchange Information with Other Riders

Protect your privilege and help others stay in designated areas. You can now log on to:

www.utahohv.org

Post questions, weigh in on current discussions, and represent your views to the rest of the OHV community. Find clubs and organizations, submit your photos, and learn ways to ensure access to wildlife on public land for future generations.

Hunters with Disabilities

The Division provides hunting accommodations for persons with disabilities, such as companion hunting, the use of crossbows, and special season extensions. For a complete copy of these regulations (R657-12) visit the Division's Internet address: wildlife.utah.gov/rules, or call any Division office.

Stay Out—Stay Alive!

An abandoned mine may look like a ready-made adventure. Don't be fooled. More often than not an abandoned mine promises only injury or death. Cave-ins, toxic gases, dangerous snakes and other animals, deep vertical shafts and undetonated explosives can cost you your life. There are an estimated 20,000 abandoned mines scattered across Utah. If you come across one, heed our advice—stay out and stay alive!

PROTECT WILDLIFE HABITAT

Use of certified noxious weed-free hay and straw is required on all Federal and State Trust Lands.

Contact your County Extension Agent for weed free alternatives and available sources or go to <http://ag.utah.gov> -> Weed Free Hay.

Vehicles, ATVs, and trailers should be weed-free upon entering Federal and State Trust Lands.

Report weed infestations to local land management office.

CHRONIC WASTING DISEASE

What is Chronic Wasting Disease?

Chronic wasting disease (CWD) is a relatively rare neurological disease found only in wild and captive deer, elk and moose in North America. It is generally found in less than one percent of wild elk, between one to 15 percent of wild deer populations, and only one moose in the wild.

CWD belongs to a family of diseases known as transmissible spongiform encephalopathies (TSE) or prion diseases. Other TSE diseases include scrapie in domestic sheep, bovine spongiform encephalopathies or mad cow disease, and Creutzfeldt-Jakob disease in humans. Although CWD shares certain features with other TSE diseases, it is a distinct disease apparently affecting only deer, elk and moose.

What are the clinical signs of CWD?

Chronic wasting disease attacks the brains of infected animals, causing them to become emaciated, display abnormal behavior, lose bodily function and eventually die. Other symptoms include excessive salivation, loss of appetite, excessive thirst and urination, holding the head in a lowered position, and drooping ears.

How is CWD diagnosed?

The prion that causes CWD accumulates in certain parts of an infected animal, including the brain, eyes, spinal cord, lymph nodes, tonsils, and spleen. The brain stem and/or lymph nodes are collected from dead deer or elk and examined microscopically using special techniques to identify the CWD prion.

CWD in Utah

Chronic wasting disease was first discovered in Colorado in the 1960s. CWD is now found in several states, including Utah. The Utah Division of Wildlife Resources (UDWR) first began looking for chronic wasting disease in 1998. Because CWD-positive deer were discovered in western Colorado in 2002, the UDWR stepped up its surveillance program and looked more aggressively for the disease. The first positive animal was identified in 2002 as a result of this testing effort near Vernal. Since that time, CWD also has been found on the La Sal Mountains near Moab and in central Utah near Fountain Green. For an update on CWD locations in Utah please view the UDWR website: wildlife.utah.gov. The UDWR will continue to conduct an annual surveillance program for the disease.

How can hunters help?

Immediately report all deer that appear sick or emaciated to a UDWR office, biologist or officer.

Salt Lake Office	(801) 538-4700
Southeastern Region	(435) 636-0260
Central Region	(801) 491-5678
Northeastern Region	(435) 781-9453
Southern Region	(435) 865-6100
Northern Region	(801) 476-2740

Deer hunters can also help by providing the heads of harvested game animals for CWD testing at checking stations throughout the state. Hunters who harvest trophy animals from areas where testing is needed may be requested to cooperate by removing the cape from the deer in the field or by taking the head to a Division office immediately after it is caped. The UDWR can then remove a tissue sample from the head for testing.

Can hunters have their deer or elk tested for CWD?

The UDWR has identified sample units throughout the state from which it will collect tissue samples from harvested deer. Checking stations will be established throughout the state during hunting season to collect these samples. Samples collected by UDWR will be tested without cost to the hunter. The UDWR is currently only testing elk from positive areas because of the low prevalence of CWD in elk. Hunters who have their deer or elk sampled by the UDWR can find the results of the test on the UDWR Web site: wildlife.utah.gov/cwdtesting/. Please allow 6-8 weeks for processing. To access the results, hunters will need the submission number from the data collection receipt issued at the time their deer or elk is sampled. Furthermore, hunters will be notified personally, if their animal tests positive for CWD.

Anyone who harvests a deer or elk outside of UDWR sample units, and wishes to have it tested for CWD may do so at their own expense. They can call a UDWR office or check the Division website for the location of public testing facilities.

The sampling and testing procedures established by the UDWR are intended only to serve as a method to screen for evidence of CWD infection. They are not meant to provide assurance of meat quality for human consumption. The tests that are performed have a high accuracy rate, but no testing process can provide 100% accuracy. The sensitivity and accuracy of the tests, or ability to detect CWD, can vary depending on the quality of the sample and the stage of the infection.

Should Utah hunters be concerned about CWD?

The World Health Organization has stated: "There is currently no evidence that CWD in cervidae (deer and elk) is transmitted to humans."

While there is currently no evidence that CWD affects humans, hunters may wish to take these simple precautions when handling deer and elk carcasses:

- Do not harvest or eat animals that appear sick.
- Wear rubber or latex gloves when field dressing and processing game meat.
- Bone out the meat from the deer or elk and remove all fat, membranes and connective tissue.
- Minimize handling of the brain, spinal cord, spleen and lymph nodes. Do not cut through the spinal cord except to remove the head.
- Do not consume the brain, spinal cord, eyes, spleen, tonsils or lymph nodes.
- Do not use household utensils to field dress or process meat. Thoroughly clean all knives, equipment and work areas with a 50/50 solution of household bleach and water.

(For example, if a person applies for limited entry elk and a bison permit, but does not send enough money for the bison permit, the applicant will be kept in the drawing for elk if enough money was included for the limited entry elk application.)

If the group is unsuccessful in the limited entry draw, the group will not be included in the once-in-a-lifetime drawing for moose.); or

1. Buck Deer (2-year waiting period)

R657-5-30

(1) A person who obtained a premium limited entry buck deer, limited entry buck deer or CWMU buck deer permit through the big game drawing process in 2004 or 2005 may not apply in the big game drawing for any of these permits in 2006.

(2) A person who obtains a premium limited entry buck deer, limited entry buck deer or CWMU buck deer permit through the big game drawing process in 2006 may not apply in the big game drawing for any of these permits again until 2009.

(3) A waiting period does not apply to:

(a) general archery, general any weapon, general muzzleloader, antlerless deer, Conservation, Sportsman, Poaching-Reported Reward and Dedicated Hunter limited entry deer permits; or

(b) CWMU or limited entry landowner buck deer permits obtained through the landowner.

BONUS POINTS

R657-5-37

Bonus points apply to each species in the Bucks, Bulls and Once-in-a-Lifetime Drawing. A bonus point is awarded for each unsuccessful application to hunt premium limited entry, limited entry, and CWMU buck deer, bull elk and pronghorn, and for unsuccessful applications for the state's once-in-a-lifetime species—bison, bighorn sheep, moose and mountain goat.

An individual, who does not want to hunt in the current year, may still apply for a bonus point only, for one or more species, by selecting the appropriate hunt choice or choices on the application and paying the $5 handling fee. The application period is January 17–February 16, 2006.

Because bonus points are applied for by species, any person who is eligible to hunt the species may apply for a bonus point for premium limited entry, limited entry, or once-in-a-lifetime, even if that particular hunt is not being offered that year.

To apply for a bonus point, you must be eligible for the hunt for which you are applying. For example, if you are eligible for a limited entry buck deer permit, you are eligible to apply for a limited entry buck deer bonus point.

You can apply for:

- one limited entry permit and one once-in-a-lifetime permit; or
- one limited entry bonus point and one once-in-a-lifetime bonus point; or
- one limited entry permit and one once-in-a-lifetime bonus point; or
- one limited entry bonus point and one once-in-a-lifetime permit.

If you apply for a permit, and a bonus point for the same species, your application will be rejected.

If you apply for more than one premium limited entry or limited entry bonus point, your application will be rejected.

If you apply for more than one once-in-a-lifetime bonus point, your application will be rejected.

Your general buck deer permit application does not affect bonus points for limited entry deer. If you draw a general buck deer permit, you will still receive a bonus point for your unsuccessful premium limited entry, limited entry or CWMU application.

The Division has retained electronic copies of application information from 1996 to present.

How your bonus points work in the draw:

Fifty percent (odd numbers are rounded down) of the permits for each hunt unit number are reserved for applicants with the most bonus points.

You receive one random drawing number for each species you apply for and one for every bonus point you have for that species. Your lowest random number is used in the drawing.

Bonus points are averaged and rounded down when two or more applicants apply as a group. For example, if hunter A with seven bonus points and hunter B with zero bonus points apply as a group, the bonus points are averaged (3.5) and rounded down to three. The group receives three random draw numbers for the bonus points, plus one random draw number for the group application, for a total of four draw numbers. The lowest random number is used in the drawing.

In the draw for limited entry buck deer, the applications are sorted into groups by the number of bonus points, from highest to lowest—a 10 Bonus Point Group, a 9 Bonus Point Group, etc. Hunters applying alone will be treated as a group of one. Within each group of bonus points for limited entry buck deer, the applications are sorted from lowest to highest draw number. Permits are awarded in order, based on the hunt choice selected.

Any person may surrender their premium limited entry, limited entry or once-in-a-lifetime permit prior to the season opening date, for the purpose of waiving the waiting period normally assessed and reinstating the number of bonus points, including a bonus point for the current year (just as if a permit had not been drawn).

You cannot apply for a hunt or receive a bonus point if:

- you are currently under wildlife license suspension for big game hunting; or

PREFERENCE POINTS

R657-5-37

Preference points are used to ensure that applicants who are unsuccessful, or who apply for a preference point in the drawing for general buck deer, will have first preference in the next year's drawing for the respective permits.

Preference points only apply to general buck deer hunts and are awarded for each unsuccessful general buck deer application.

An individual, who does not want to hunt in the current year, may apply for a preference point only, for general buck deer by selecting the appropriate preference point code on the application and paying the $5 handling fee. The application period is January 17 - February 16, 2006.

A preference point will not be issued if an applicant is successful in drawing any general buck deer permit, regardless of the region or choice number. For example, if an applicant chooses the Southeastern Region as a first choice and the Northern Region as a second choice, and draws the Northern Region permit (the second choice), a preference point will not be awarded.

Preference points are not forfeited if an individual obtains a remaining permit.

The Division has retained electronic records of all general buck deer application information from the year 2000 to present.

How your preference points work in the draw:

Preference points are averaged and rounded down when two or more applicants apply as a group. For example, if hunter A with three preference points and hunter B with zero preference points apply as a group, the preference points are averaged (1.5) and rounded down to one. This process will determine in which group of preference points your application will be considered. This group with one preference point will be considered after all groups or individuals with two or more preference points and before all groups or individuals with zero preference points.

In a second example, if hunter A with one preference point and hunter B with zero preference points apply as a group, the preference points are averaged (0.5) and rounded down to zero. This process will determine in which group of preference points your application will be considered. This group with zero preference points will be considered after all groups or individuals with one or more preference points have been considered.

In the drawing, the general buck deer applications are sorted into groups by the number of preference points, from highest to lowest - a 4 Preference Point Group, a 3 Preference Point Group, etc. Within each group of preference points, the applications are then sorted from lowest to highest draw numbers. (You receive only one random draw number for the general deer hunt.) Permits are awarded in order, based on the hunt choice selected.

Applicants who apply for a general buck deer permit will receive a preference point, even if they are successful in obtaining a premium limited entry, limited entry, or CWMU deer or elk permit in the drawing.

An individual may surrender their general buck deer permit prior to the season opening date for the purpose of reinstating the number of preference points, including a preference point for the current year (just as if a permit had not been drawn).

You cannot apply for a general buck deer permit or a preference point if:

You are currently under wildlife license suspension for big game hunting.

A complete copy of these regulations (R657-5-37) can be found at the Division's Internet address: wildlife.utah.gov.

(2)(a) Unsuccessful applicants, who applied with a credit or debit card, will not be charged for a permit.

(b) Unsuccessful applicants, who applied as a group, will receive an equally distributed refund of money remaining after the successful applicants' permits are paid for (See Section XVI.C.(6)).

(c) If group members have other financial arrangements between themselves, group members should be prepared to reallocate each group member's individual refunds among themselves.

(3) The $5 handling fees are nonrefundable.

DEDICATED HUNTER PROGRAM

R657-38

Since its inception in 1995, the Dedicated Hunter Program has provided sportsmen with an opportunity to become involved with hands-on conservation projects. Participants in this program are wildlife enthusiasts who are dedicated to Utah's wildlife resources.

Upon completion of program requirements, participants receive a guaranteed permit to hunt the buck deer statewide general archery, any weapon and muzzleloader seasons in the region of their choice. Participants agree to harvest only two deer using Dedicated Hunter Permits during their three-year enrollment period, and may not harvest two deer in the same year.

The program currently has more than 8,000 participants and is steadily growing. There is a 10,000 cap on the number of people who can be in the program.

Program Requirements

In exchange for these additional hunting opportunities, participants must provide a total of 24 hours of service as a volunteer on Wildlife Conservation Projects, attend one Regional Advisory Council (RAC) meeting, complete a Wildlife Conservation Course and return unused Dedicated Hunter Permits and attached tags to the Division.

Participants may choose to substitute some of their Wildlife Conservation Project hours by paying a fee of $20 per hour. Participants who are residents of Utah may not purchase more than 16 of the required 24 service hours.

Eight hours of volunteer service on a Wildlife Conservation Project must be completed before obtaining the first Dedicated Hunter Permit. All 24 hours and the RAC meeting must be completed before a second Dedicated Hunter Permit is issued. Wildlife Conservation Projects are listed at the Division Internet address: wildlife.utah.gov/dh.

The Wildlife Conservation Course must be completed before the Dedicated Hunter Certificate of Registration (COR) is used. The course can be taken at the Division's Internet address: wildlife.utah.gov/dh.

Important Dates

January 17-February 16

The application period to enroll or re-enroll in the Dedicated Hunter program coincides with the application period for the Big Game Drawing. In 2006, enrollment starts January 17 and ends February 16.

January 31

Participants must return their unused Dedicated Hunter Permit by January 31 annually to avoid being credited with a program harvest. Each harvest credited to a participant counts toward the two deer they may harvest with Dedicated Hunter Permits during the three-year enrollment period.

Permits returned after the deadline will be accepted. If a participant has been credited with one harvest, the harvest will be removed once the late permit has been received by the Division. If a participant has been credited with two program harvests, returning an unused permit after the January 31 deadline will allow them to obtain a Dedicated Hunter Permit ONLY for a region that is available after the big game drawing. These participants must obtain their Dedicated Hunter Permit over-the-counter at a Division office. If there are no permits remaining after the big game drawing, no additional Dedicated Hunter Permits will be issued.

Returning unused permits and attached tags by the January 31 deadline automatically enters participants into the Dedicated Hunter Limited Entry drawing, where approximately 24 to 30 deer and elk permits are made available to Dedicated Hunters. Results for this draw will be posted annually on the Division's Internet address in late April.

Any changes to regional hunt choice must be made in writing by January 31.

Applications or items that need to be received by the Jan. 31 deadline, must be mailed to: UTAH DIVISION OF WILDLIFE RESOURCES, ATTN: DEDICATED HUNTER PROGRAM, PO BOX 146301, SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, 84114-6301. The Division cannot guarantee delivery. You may want to consider sending items via certified mail. Check with your local Postmaster for delivery options.

Cost

The cost of joining the Dedicated Hunter Program covers a Certificate of Registration (COR), which entitles the bearer to hunt all three general buck deer seasons.

Adult, Resident & Nonresident: $195 & $1032

Youth (14-17 years old), Resident & Nonresident: $120 & $799

Lifetime Licensees: Adult $75, Youth (14-17 years old) $37.50

DEPREDAATION HUNTS FOR DEER, ELK OR PRONGHORN

R657-44

When deer, elk or pronghorn antelope are causing damage, hunts not listed in this proclamation may be held. These hunts occur on short notice, involve small areas and are limited to only a few hunters. The Depredation Hunter Pool Application below provides the Division's regional offices with names of hunters who are interested in participating in depredation hunts. Hunters who participate in any deer, elk, or pronghorn depredation hunt may not possess an additional permit for that species during the same year, except as provided in Rule R657-5 and this proclamation. Depredation hunts will be conducted in accordance with Rule R657-44, which can be viewed at the Division's Internet address: wildlife.utah.gov/rules.

COOPERATIVE WILDLIFE MANAGEMENT UNITS

More than 60% of the state's big game winter range occurs on private land. The increasing development to satisfy human needs on these ranges will significantly reduce Utah's big game herds and recreational opportunities unless actions are taken to preserve these lands. The CWMU Program has been developed to help in the preservation effort.

How the Program Works

The CWMU Program provides economic incentive to landowners to keep private range and forest lands in wildlife habitat rather than succumbing to development. CWMUs also allow for free public hunting access onto the private lands enrolled in the program.

CWMUs comprise more than 1.8 million acres of land and will provide nearly 3,000 hunting permits for bucks and bulls in 2006. About 15% of these permits will be provided to the general public through a drawing.

Both private and public hunters generally enjoy greater hunting benefits on CWMUs in the form of improved harvest success and reduced hunter competition. While good opportunity exists for hunters to take mature animals, harvest is not guaranteed and the quality of male animals may differ greatly between units. If it is the hunter's goal to harvest a "trophy" animal, you should contact the operator of the CWMU to better understand trophy potential before applying for the hunt.

How to Participate

Successful applicants must contact the CWMU operator to obtain the following:

(a) Hunting dates of guaranteed access within the legal CWMU hunting season framework. Realize that both the operator and the hunter must schedule around individual needs—be realistic and patient.

(b) A map of the CWMU showing access and the acreage you will be allowed to hunt. Comparable acreage should be available to private and public CWMU hunters.

(c) A copy of rules—CWMUs are allowed to develop rules of conduct for their unit. Examples of requirements may include: no pre-season scouting, checking into and out of the unit daily, limited vehicle access, no over-night camping, a marksmanship test, limiting the number of hunting companions, etc. Hunters may be asked to leave a CWMU for failure to abide by reasonable rules of conduct.

Complaint Process

Hunters wishing to lodge complaints against a CWMU should contact the Division immediately. Biologists and conservation officers have access to complaint forms. Otherwise, the complaint may be made in person or over the telephone. Because time is of the essence, it is expected that the hunter and the operator will make every effort to resolve issues before they escalate to the Division level. If a problem cannot be resolved locally, it may be passed on to a CWMU Advisory Committee.

CWMU Hunt Seasons

The following timeframes are established by the Wildlife Board for hunting opportunities on CWMUs. Hunters should not expect to hunt longer than 3-5 days within these timeframes, although it is up to the operator to establish the number of days of hunting. Hunters are encouraged to contact the operator before applying to obtain specific information regarding hunt dates, weapon choice, and other rules for individual CWMUs.

Some deer and elk CWMUs are granted hunting seasons outside of these timeframes. Those displaying an asterisk (*) in the unit name listed in the hunt tables have been authorized to hunt into November. These units have agreed to give public hunters the option to choose a November hunt. For more details about CWMU hunts, see the CWMU hunt tables in this proclamation.

How to Use the Hunt Tables

The 2006 permit numbers will be set by the Wildlife Board after the application period and before the big game drawing so biologists can use up-to-date harvest and population census data. The following tables provide the number of allocated permits and the number of applicants based upon their first choice for 2005. If there was a permit for residents or nonresidents in 2005, there will be at least one in 2006, unless noted in the hunt tables or in case of an emergency closure of the hunt unit.

CWMU Bull Elk Hunt Dates

The following timeframes are established by the Wildlife Board for hunting opportunities on CWMUs. Hunters should not expect to hunt longer than 3-5 days within these timeframes, although it is up to the operator to establish the number of days of hunting. Hunters are encouraged to contact the operator before applying to obtain specific information regarding hunt dates, weapon choice, and other rules for individual CWMUs.

Archery bull elk	..... August 24, 2006 to October 31, 2006
Any Weapon bull elk	..... September 1, 2006 to October 31, 2006
Muzzleloader bull elk	..... September 1, 2006 to November 9, 2006

Some CWMUs are granted hunting seasons outside of these timeframes. Those displaying an asterisk (*) in the unit name have been authorized to hunt bull elk into November. These units have agreed to give public hunters the option to choose a November elk hunt.

MAKE A DIFFERENCE

Get involved in the decision-making process regarding Utah wildlife management, rules and regulations. Attend your local wildlife Regional Advisory Council (RAC) meetings. The Utah State Legislature created the RACs in the early 1990s to gather public input from citizens at the grassroots level about wildlife management issues. The five RACs in the state each consist of 12 to 15 members who represent various interests and groups:

- agriculture
- sportsmen
- nonconsumptive wildlife
- locally elected public officials
- federal land agencies
- public at large

The RACs gather public input at regularly scheduled meetings throughout the state and make recommendations to the Utah Wildlife Board in an advisory capacity. The Wildlife Board relies heavily on input from the RACs when establishing policy, rules and regulations for the Division of Wildlife Resources.

In these open public meetings, citizens are encouraged to ask questions and express opinions and ideas in a structured forum.

This is your opportunity to make a difference.
